Course Description and Objectives

The purpose of this course is to provide a broad overview of counseling theories and skills. Students in the course will:

- a. analyze their assumptions about human behavior and how change occurs.
- understand and critique the major models of individual therapy, including Psychoanalytic, Existential, Person-Centered, Gestalt, Behavioral and Cognitive Behavioral models.
- c. identify contextual factors which impact the therapeutic system e.g. gender, socioeconomic and cultural issues.
- d. examine emerging models including EMDR and narrative therapy.
- e. select and evaluate the model of therapy which most closely matches their assumptions about the process of change and development.
- f. examine ethical dilemmas in the delivery of mental health services.
- g. identify and practice basic counseling skills.

The teaching activities of the course will include lectures, role-plays, videotape analyses, case discussions and writing activities.

Prerequisites

Students in this course are required to be upper-division students. There are no prerequisites for the course, although some familiarity with psychological theories can be helpful. It is possible to do well without any psychology background.

Required Texts

Corey, G. (2008). Theory and practice of counseling and psychotherapy. (Eighth Edition). Pacific Grove, Ca: Brooks/Cole.

Kahn, M. (1997). Between therapist and client: The new relationship. New York: W. H. Freeman and Co.

^{*} Students are encouraged to sign-up for office hours; the sign-up book is in SZB 262.

Course Requirements

1. Case Materials.

a. Class Discussion Case Material: Students will watch the movie Ordinary People as a basis for class discussion and activities. The movie may be viewed independently in the Audio Visual Library at UT (see library catalog) or rented at local video stores. The deadline for viewing the movie is prior to class on February 2nd. The characters in this movie will provide a basis for class discussion across the course of the semester.
 A brief in class writing assignment on the movie will be done in class on February 2nd Ordinary People" Analysis
 Done in Class February 2nd (8 points)

Redford, R. (Director). (1980). Ordinary people. [Film]. Los Angeles: Paramount Pictures.

b. Written Case Studies: Given a description of a character distributed in class, students will write a paper analyzing the case study using two of the major theories.

Psychodynamic Due: February 16th (20 points) Gestalt Due: March 28th (20 points)

c. In-Class Group Case Studies. Given a description of a character distributed in class, students will work together in class in small groups to analyze the case study for three of the major theories. The dates for these in-class activities are:

Existential Done in Class February 21st (5 points)
Person-Centered Done in Class February 28th (5 points)
Cognitive-Behavioral Done in Class April 11th (5 points)

2. Behavior Management Activity.

For the behavior management activity, students will participate in and document a behavior management program. See Appendix A for due dates. (10 points)

3. Class Participation.

This portion of the grade will be based on participation in the communication skills lab activities, attendance and class discussions. More than three un-excused absences may result in a grade letter penalty. Although there will not be daily sign-ins for attendance, individual attendance issues will be monitored when triggered by excessive absences.

Communication Skills Labs (12 points) Attendance/Participation (10 points)

4. Exams

Students will take three in-class exams consisting of multiple-choice, short answer and short essay.

March 2nd Exam 1 50 points April 13th Exam 2 50 points

May 4th Open-Note Quiz 20 points

(120 points)

Students with disabilities are encouraged to see me at the first of the semester in order to arrange reasonable accommodations. If not already registered, they are advised to register with the Services for Students with Disabilities Office. To ensure that the most appropriate accommodations can be provided, students should contact the SSD Office at 471-6259 or 471-4641 TTY.

This instructor will participate in the course evaluation provided by the university.

March 28th is the last day for dropping a course without urgent and substantiated nonacademic reasons. This is also the last day to change a course from grade option to credit/no credit.

Grading Policy:

Points will be translated into a grade for the course using the following distribution:

194 TO 215	A- TO A+
172 TO 193	B- TO B+
150 TO 171	C- TO C+

STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC HONESTY

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY:

All written work submitted for this course is required to be your own work, not relying on unauthorized assistance. Use of the Undergraduate Writing Center is considered authorized assistance. For questions on assignments, please consult your instructor and not your classmates. Please provide citations for all material that is not directly from the class lectures and all direct quotations from the textbook, using APA format. According to UT's academic integrity policy on the website listed below:

"Students who violate University rules on academic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary penalties, including the possibility of failure in the course and/or dismissal from the University. Since such dishonesty harms the individual, all students, and the integrity of the University, policies on academic dishonesty will be strictly enforced. Appendix A Assignment Descriptions

Case Study Papers

The psychodynamic and gestalt theories papers are to be a three page (+/-) writing exercise which addresses the two major questions:

- 1. What sustains the problem for the "client"?
- 2. How would the therapist intervene using the designated theory?

General grading criteria for psychodynamic and gestalt papers:

Point Value	Criteria
10 -11 points or below	Partial completion – covers less than ½ of major issues or is late or contains significant grammatical/spelling errors.
12-13 points	Includes more than ½ of major issues or is organized but contains some grammatical/spelling errors
14-15 points	Refers to most major issues is organized* with minimal grammatical/spelling errors. * Contains a clear thesis statement.
16-17 points	Includes the all major issues and is well written* (organized, no significant grammatical or spelling errors.) *Contains a clear thesis statement and specific supporting details. Refers to but does not integrate elaboration.
18-20 points	Meets the criteria for 16-17 points and includes fully integrated elaboration (addresses issues beyond what is required, such as ethical issues, diversity issues, refers to outside readings or ties in other fields of study, for example from outside majors, examination of limitations and strengths of the approach, uses creative dialogue, etc.)

Note: These papers may be written from the perspective of either the first person (as if you were the therapist) or from third person as if you are writing about the therapist.

Behavior Management Activity

Students will target a behavior that they wish to change, develop a baseline for this behavior, implement a behavioral intervention, track their progress and evaluate why or why not their interventions worked. This assignment will be done in segments and efforts will be documented on a worksheet provided on Course Documents on Blackboard.

Step 1: Target a Behavior Done in class March 23rd

Step 2: Tally the Behavior March 23rd to March 30th

Step 3: Develop an Intervention Done in Class March 30th

Step 4: Tally Behavior

March 30th to April 6th
Step 5: Evaluate Intervention

Prior to Class

April 6th (Due in Class)

Class Participation

Communication Skills Labs: The labs are designed to provide practice for listening skills and applying counseling theories. They are scheduled during class time and attendance is required; absences may result in a grade penalty for students who are taking it as a graded course and students taking the course on a credit/no credit basis. In the labs, students will rotate through the roles of "therapist", "client", and "observer" to apply the materials learned in this course. (3 points for each lab, total 12 points)

Class Participation: Participation is an important factor in the learning in this course. Class discussion, small group participation and volunteering for role-plays will be assigned a maximum point value of 10 points.
