Course Description

In this course, we will study the religion of Islam through its sacred text, the Qur'an. To this end, this course will entail extensive reading of the Qur'an itself, as well as of other texts. In our studies, we will focus on the following themes of the Qur'an: cosmology (eg God, human nature, satan, and the afterlife), ethical principles, ritual prescriptions, and legal injunctions. We will also examine some of the prominent symbols, images and rhetorical structures of the Qur'an. Through reading the prophetic narratives, we will have an opportunity to compare Qur'anic and Biblical accounts of the major prophets shared by Judaism, Christianity and Islam. The syllabus also includes an inquiry into role of the Qur'an in Muslim devotion and as a medium for artistic expression. We will also discuss the tradition of interpretation (or "exegesis"), especially as it pertains to those verses that engender the most debate today: those surrounding politics, intercommunal (i.e. interreligious) relations, and gender. Prior knowledge of Islam is helpful but not required for this course.

Course Texts

- The Qur'an, any edition – online editions at <http://tanzil.net> (very user-friendly) and <http://quran.com>.
- The Bible, any edition – students may use their own editions; searchable online versions found at www.biblegateway.com
- Toshihiko Izutsu, Ethico-Religious Concepts in the Qur'an. (McGills-Queens U Press, 2002)
- Ingrid Mattson, The Story of the Qur'an (Blackwell, 2008)
- Supplemental readings, available in pdf on BlackBoard:
  - Hadia Mubarak. "Breaking the Interpretive Monopoly: A Re-Examination of Verse 4:34." HAWWA 2:3 (2004) 261-289.

- Excerpts from Michael Sells. Approaching the Qur'an: The Early Revelation. White Cloud Press, 2000.
- Excerpts from Kristina Nelson. The Art of Reciting Qur'an. Austin: University of Texas Press, 1985.
- Excerpts from Barbara F. Stowasser. Women in the Qur'an, Traditions and Interpretations. Oxford U Press, 1996.

Grading

NOTE: The instructor reserves the right to adjust course requirements during the term. Students will be notified of any such adjustments either in class or via email.

Course grades will be based on a combination of quizzes, exams, and class participation, as follows:

3 quizzes, 10% each	= 30%
Journal	= 10%
Midterm exam	= 25%
Final exam	= 25%
Class participation	= 10%
	= 100% total

Assessments: Quizzes will usually be on Thursdays and will normally be held at the start of class. There will be a midterm exam on the 15th class day, and a final exam during the college-assigned time slot. Be advised that quizzes and exams will be based on both class notes and readings. A failure to stay on top of course readings will result in poor grades. I will offer make-up quizzes and exams only for extenuating circumstances, at my discretion, if the reason is compelling and documented.

Journal:

Over the course of the semester, you must write 5 journal entries (approximately one every other week) and upload them into BlackBoard. Available themes are found in the "Journals" section of the BlackBoard page for this class, and roughly parallel our class readings. You may select theme you like from the ones available for that entry. Entries must be entered by midnight on the due dates given in the syllabus. Late entries may be marked down or receive no credit.

In each entry, you must do the following:

- put the key ideas of the verses into your own words
- relate the verses to each other
- offer your own reflections upon the verses

Entries should be 200-300 words in length and must address at least 4 verses from that theme. You will be grade on a simple + √ - system, based primarily on content, but also on mechanics:

+ = a full 2% (A-B range)

- √ = 1.5% (C-D range)
- = 1% (F range)

Class participation: This grade includes the following:

- Attendance: You are permitted 3 absences during the semester. Anything beyond that will adversely affect your course grade. For extenuating circumstances, a note and/or prior permission is requested, and may mitigate the effect of an absence from class.
- Arriving on time: I will take attendance at the beginning of class. If you arrive late, it is your responsibility to come to me after class and tell me you've arrived. Repeated or significant tardiness may adversely affect your attendance grade.
- Being prepared, especially by having completed the readings beforehand. Please bring your Qur'an/assigned verses and your Bible/assigned verses on the days for which you have assigned readings from those texts.
- Demonstrating your preparedness by engaging with the material and participating in class discussion.
- Laptops, cell phones and other electronic devices may not be used during class.

TA-led reading discussion sections: Your TA will organize discussions sections for the readings. These are optional, but are highly recommended as ways to better grasp the course texts.

IMP: You are responsible for being aware of any announcements made in class or sent out via email. This includes announcements made during any portion of class for which you are absent, or email messages that you fail to receive. It is your responsibility to provide me a valid email address and to check it regularly. I will assume all Registrar-held email addresses are valid unless you tell me otherwise.

Grading Rubric

Percentage Grade	Letter Grade	Percentage Grade	Letter Grade
93-100	A	73-76	C
90-92	A-	70-72	C-
87-89	B+	67-69	D+
83-86	B	63-66	D
80-82	B-	60-62	D-
77-79	C+	59 and below	F

Note: Final course grades will be rounded to the nearest point, eg:

- 89.2 = 89 = B+
- 89.7 = 90 = A-
- 89.5 = 90 = A-

Note: Students with disabilities may request appropriate academic accommodations from the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement, Services for Students with Disabilities, 512-471-6259, <http://www.utexas.edu/diversity/ddce/ssd/>
